The Honorable Shelley Moore Capito
Ranking Member
Subcommittee on Homeland Security
Committee on Appropriations
United States Senate

Dear Chairman Leahy, Vice Chairman Shelby, Chair Murphy, and Ranking Member Capito:

On behalf of the National Partnership for New Americans (NPNA), the Coalition for Humane Immigrant Rights (CHIRLA), and the 88 undersigned local, state, and national organizations, we respectfully request that you continue to support naturalization by providing much needed funding to the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) and the USCIS Citizenship and Integration Grant program. The House Committee on Appropriations provided $683.3 million in funding to USCIS and $30 million for the USCIS Citizen and Integration Grant Program in the Fiscal Year 2023 Homeland Security and Financial Services and General Government appropriations bills. The funding for USCIS to, among other things, reduce the agency's historic backlog will be essential to supporting immigrants in the United States and help to restore and strengthen our immigration system. Additionally, the much-needed increase in funding for the USCIS Citizenship and Integration Grant Program will support legal permanent residents (LPRs) in their naturalization process and allow them to fully take part in American civic and economic life.

We respectfully request that you consider increases to these funding amounts. USCIS is facing unprecedented levels of pending cases and requires additional funding to address them. The FY 2023 Homeland Security bill includes funding for the E-verify Program, application processing, the reduction of backlogs within asylum, field, and service centers, and for Refugee, Asylum, and International Operations Program. Although this is a $273.8 million increase in funding from FY 2022, it is far less than the President's Budget request of $903 million in discretionary funding. Without the additional funding, USCIS cannot fully address these backlogs. We also request that this and any other DHS funding be prohibited from being utilized or transferred for enforcement purposes by Immigration and Customs Enforcement or Customs and Border Protection.

In addition to providing funding to address the backlog, we request a funding level of $100 million for the USCIS Citizen and Integration Grant Program, or at a minimum $40 million to help with the full integration of Legal Permanent Residents into our society. At the current funding level, the Citizenship and Integration Grant Program reaches less than one percent of the naturalization-eligible population. Currently, there are 9 million LPRs eligible to naturalize, and 32 percent of the naturalization-eligible population are eligible for an application fee waiver, meaning they have an income below 150 percent of the federal poverty level. This group of LPRs could benefit from an increase in funding for the grant program. In addition to this, three million naturalization-eligible people reported they speak little or no English, and many LPRs cite language barriers as an obstacle to naturalization. The grant program supports LPRs in learning English and gives many LPRs the resources to naturalize successfully. An increase in funding would allow more LPRs to access the assistance supported by the grant program and be more prepared for the naturalization process.

In addition to allowing more LPRs to naturalize, funding the Citizenship and Integration Grant program supports USCIS in creating a more efficient immigration system. Naturalization preparation gives immigrants a better chance of passing the naturalization exam, allowing for a more efficient process. Giving LPRs access to an immigration attorney through the grant program can also support creating an efficient system. Having an attorney familiar with the process and requirements can help reduce errors and requests for information and reduce the time an officer spends adjudicating a case, creating a more efficient immigration system. Funding for the grant program is an integral part of creating a more efficient immigration system.

Thank you for your time, and again, we respectfully request that you continue to support naturalization and provide the much-needed funding to USCIS and the USCIS Citizenship and integration grant program.
